Historians on the Fall of Babylon

“But Cyrus, when he heard that there was to be such a feast in Babylon in which all the Babylonians would feast and revel through the whole night, on that night, as soon as it began to grow dark, taking many men, opened the dams into the river and allowed them to again flood the country, so that he could enter Babylon beneath its walls in the channel of the river”

“Now let us go up against them. Many of them are asleep; many of them are intoxicated; and all of them are unfit for battle”

Xenophon (Cyrop. 7:5)

Historians on the Fall of Babylon

“...it was a day of festivity among them; and whilst the citizens were engaged in dance and merriment, Babylon was, for the first time, thus taken.”

Herodotus (Book 1:19)

Isaiah 45:1

Thus saith the LORD to his anointed, to Cyrus,
whose right hand I have holden...

Hebrew Coresh, which is interpreted by some as “sun”

Cyrus

Isaiah 45:1

Thus saith the LORD to his anointed, to Cyrus,
whose right hand I have holden...

Coresh, a compound word, a proper name:

caph = like,

yoraish = to seize, to take possession of, to occupy,
mostly by force. i.e. signifying one who takes possession of his inheritance by conquest

Cyrus = Like the Heir

Isaiah 13:1-5, Isaiah 44:27-28, Jeremiah 50:35, 51:35-36

Cyrus

“Cyrus, and the ‘sanctified ones,’ his Medes and Persians, were typical of Christ and his Kings in ‘the way prepared,’ through the drying up of ‘the Great River Euphrates’ as prophesied in Revelation 16:12.”

(Eureka, Vol. 5, p.183-4)

“The term ‘kings of the east’ is from the Greek anatole helios, ‘kings who are out of a sun's risings.’ The symbol of ‘the Sun of righteousness’ as seen in Mal. 4:2 is applied to the Lord Jesus Christ. The sun is the great illuminator of the earth, and is therefore an apt symbol for the Lord who will enlighten mankind with his glory.” (Revelation Expositor, p.198)
